

What's all this about Enron?

Ohio's CPAs are committed to protecting the public interest, restoring investor confidence, and safeguarding American financial markets.

The Ohio Society of CPAs has no tolerance for CPAs who do not adhere to the rules and believe they should be and will be held accountable for their actions. The accounting profession has a 100-year tradition of adhering to the highest of ethical standards. That has not and will not change based on the actions of a few.

At Titus, Urbanski & DeMarco, our Certified Public Accountants are active members of the American Institute of CPAs, Ohio Society of CPAs & Michigan Association of CPAs; all working harder than ever to “deserve” your trust.
